The Dyrian Monarchy is an ancient royal line, that dates back to the mid 9th century when it was founded by legendary Hundur King Kido and his descendants. By the time of the latter 13th century, the ruler is Kido's descendant, the Sionnach Queen Yi.

History

Around the 8th century the first-known city-states emerged in central Vineta. The Dyrian Monarchy did not solidify itself until the Feiwo city-state Vineta, which gradually grew to absorb its surrounding city-states in different wars until the 1050s–1060s, when the Dyrian monarchy that ruled the city declared the birth of the kingdom of Vineta under the Hundur King Kido.
